

Commissioning Finance Faculty
Helping you deliver better outcomes

Sharing knowledge to achieve better outcomes

Join the faculty that's led by commissioners – sharing knowledge, expertise and steering policy

Sharing knowledge to achieve better outcomes

There's a reason why over 140 CCG's have joined our faculty. In an era of tight budgets and rising demand, those involved in commissioning are facing some tough decisions. Healthcare is becoming more and more expensive yet the quality of provision needs to improve.

Our Commissioning Finance Faculty exists to support finance professionals working within this challenging commissioning environment. It gives your staff an opportunity to meet with peers, share expertise as well as influence policy and decision making.

Not only does it give your team a platform for training and development, it gives your organisation a voice. It enables you to have your say about important issues and provide valuable input on policy.

Your platform to share and influence...

Directors' forum

These high level briefings have been developed to give partners an opportunity to network with peers in an informal, interactive environment. The forums are held throughout the year, are operated under the Chatham house rule and are addressed by influential leaders in the healthcare sector.

Technical issues group

The Technical issues group plays a key role in helping to influence policy. By engaging with NHS England, sharing expertise through technical working papers and providing guidance, we actively seek to inform policy decision-making.

As part of this collective, your organisation can be kept up to date with the latest thinking by electing a senior member of your finance team to act as your technical representative.

Partnership benefits:

- Attendance at forums developed specifically for senior finance staff where you can hear eminent speakers share the latest insight on topical subjects
- Network with peers and exchange opinion about the latest thinking
- Access to HFMA's webinars focused on commissioning
- Access to the faculty's closed LinkedIn discussion group
- Exclusive access to faculty-specific content and supporting materials
- Significant discount on attendance at the annual HFMA Commissioning Finance conference

To find out more about the benefits of joining the HFMA Commissioning Finance Faculty, please contact:

Selma Naden

Head of healthcare business development, hfma

 selma.naden@hfma.org.uk
 0117 938 8974

A unique platform for shared insights

Join over 140 CCG's from across the UK as members of our dedicated commissioning faculty

Shared expertise, collaboration and engagement across the sector

Faculty events and networking opportunities exclusively for CCG's

Have your say – All our faculty forums operate under Chatham house rules